

Programme ICCG11 - Wednesday 18th

Stage

11.30-11.45 Opening ceremony

11.45-12.45 Holger Diessel – Constructions, word classes and syntactic categories in the grammar network

12.45-14.00 lunch break

14.00-14.45 Poster session (Fujikawa; Lu; Hayase; Hendrikx & Van Goethem; Shih & Liu; Clemente)

Sessions

	Mind-Bending Grammars (Chair: Cuyckens)	Probabilistic approaches (Chair: Desagulier)	Construction discourse (Chair: Gras)	Clause linking constructions (Chair: Smirnova)	Networks & Links (Chair: Sommerer)	Intensification (Chair: Muriel)	Slavic grammar (Chair: Fried)
14.45-15.15	Petré, Anthonissen & Standing ConstruWctional change across the lifespan	Liu & Morgan Item-specific regularization in word order preferences	Östman Construction Discourse: Furthering the Firthian and Pikean legacies	Alhedayani Arabic conjunct-sensitive agreement: a Sign-Based Construction Grammar perspective	Fujii Constructional Polysemy and Constructional Network in the Clause-linking Constructicon	Kotowski English locative prefixes and scalar information encoded in nouns	Lehečková, Jehlička & Machač And then... Prosodic and gestural marking of an event sequence in Czech
15.15-15.45	Standing The Cleft in Early Modern English: a Relic of Syntax/Pragmatics Mismatch	Thothathiri & Levshina Additive effects of different sources of verb bias during sentence production	Leuschner V1-conditionals in German and English: Introducing the p-constructicon	Kim The phraseology of the linking adverbial 'besides': A corpus-based study	Ungerer Vertical and horizontal links in constructional networks – two sides of the same coin?	Ivorra Ordines Phraseological comparisons from Construction Grammar. A usage-based approach of the constructional idiom [más feo que X]	Endresen, Janda, Mordashova, Rakhilina & Zhukova Prohibitive constructions in Russian: Families and clusters

15.45-16.15 coffee break

	Mind-Bending Grammars (cont'd) (Chair: Cuyckens)	Probabilistic approaches (cont'd) (Chair: Desagulier)	Construction discourse (cont'd) (Chair: Gras)	Allostructions (Chair: Cappelle)	Networks & Links (cont'd) (Chair: Sommerer)	Intensification (cont'd) (Chair: Muriel)	Typology (Chair: TBA)
16.15-16.45	Fonteyn Constructional Change across the Lifespan of 20 Early Modern Gentlemen: a Bayesian Approach	Pijpops, Speelman & van den Bosch Hypothesis-generation at low levels of abstraction	Spronck & Silvennoinen Ultimate abstraction: Are there construction families without immediate inheritance relations?	Dietrich Tackling problems with modelling polysemy and variation: Towards high-definition constructions	Daug & Lorenz It won't hurt to consider them constructions: A mixed-method approach to storage and processing of English modal contractions	Liégeois & Gautier Domain-specific intensifying constructions and/ in weather-related proverbs. A case study based on Dutch dialects in Flanders.	Levshina & Hawkins Loose and tight languages: A typology based on associations between constructions and lexemes
16.45-17.15	Petré Constructional grammaticalization bending minds and generations: How copular get got ready	Shin & Mun Bayesian simulation of Korean-speaking children's constructional knowledge about transitive events	Benen Epistemic adverbs as lexical fillers in large-scale constructions	Golubkova & Trubochkin Measuring the strength of attraction in phrasal verbs constructions	Leclercq Making meaning with modals: A view from Construction Grammar		Vigus Verb and construction meaning: A typology of the locative alternation

17.15-17.30 Gras, Östman & Verschueren – Tribute to Fillmore

17.30-18.45 Boas, Leino, Lyngfelt (moderators) – Roundtable discussion

Programme ICCG11 - Thursday 19th

Stage

9.00-10.00	Steffen Höder – What are constructions doing inside languages?
10.00-10.30	coffee break

Sessions	Workshop 4: What counts as an alternation (Chair: Pijpops)	Workshop 3: Paradigmatic relations in the construction (Chair: Audring)	Variation (Chair: Coleman)	Creativity & productivity (Chair: Hoffmann)	Voice (Chair: TBA)	Motion and resultative constructions (Chair: Brisard)	Psycholinguistics & acquisition (Chair: Van Goethem)
10.30-11.00	Pijpops, Franco Introduction	Audring & Hilpert Introduction	Tarasova & Sánchez Fajardo Iconicity and word-formation: An examination of Adj+ie/y nominalisations through a bidirectional conceptualisation model	Kanetani How are multimodal constructions multimodal?: The case of Japanese psychomimes	Marty & Delhem Is the capacitive structure a construction?	Fuyin & Junjie Exploring the cognitive mechanism of “V+Chu+NP” constructions based on Perspective System	Horiuchi What kinds of prepositions are acquired through resonance?
11.00-11.30	De Cuypere, Willems, Vaere, Belligh Models don't explain. Theoretical and empirical challenges to modelling syntactic alternations	Diewald & Politt Paradigmatic relations and relations within paradigms	Rice-Whetton Reconciling the Principle of No Synonymy with “different ways of saying the same thing”	Hartmann & Ungerer The mother of all constructions: A corpus-based approach to the productivity of ‘snowclones’	da Cunha & Abeillé The passive construction in written French : a corpus study	Matsumoto A Syntactic Asymmetry between the Come-to-V and the Go-to-V Constructions in English	Wible What does it take for L2 learners to recognize and comprehend unknown lexico-grammatical constructions in context?
11.30-12.00	Romain Measuring the relevance of alternations by means of shared information	Diessel Encoding asymmetries in the construction	Pavlović Knead memory into history: The V N2 into N3 construction in British and American English – A colostruational approach	Van den Heede & Lauwers Het interesseert me geen ene je-weet-wel: The productivity of minimizing constructions in present-day Dutch	Johannsen Between causative and passive: The affective construction as a voice and valency-increasing construction	Igarashi & Kanetani Why can a door swing open into the bedroom?: An event-integration account	Tian Eye-tracking the contextual effect on metonymy processing in Chinese constructions
12.00-12.30	Mikkelsen & Glynn Predicting the Future. Combining corpus evidence and elicitation to understand speakers' choices in constructional alternations	Kapatsinski Why paradigmatic mappings exist in morphology but not syntax	Schürmann Constructions, cooccurrence and varieties. Theoretical and methodical explorations.	Kohn When 'very crazy' is not crazy enough: Creative taboo-constructions as deviations from expected constructional patterns	Nagaya Category change and nominalization in Tagalog: A constructionist approach	Willich How to identify constructs of a construction: Using frame-to-frame relations to resolve constructional ambiguity	Duan & Tian Semantic and discourse function contrasts of synonymous constructions —A corpus-based analysis of Chinese “V zhe” and “V le” existential constructions

Sessions	Workshop 4 (cont'd) (Chair: Franco)	Workshop 3 (cont'd) (Chair: Audring)	Insubordination and related constructions (Chair: Van linden)	Creativity & productivity (cont'd) (Chair: Hartmann)	Formal computational construction grammar (Chair: TBA)	Motion and resultative constructions (cont'd) (Chair: Petré)	Psycholinguistics & acquisition (cont'd) (Chair: Koch)
13.45-14.15	Flach Constructional interaction: Beyond alternation?	Höder Sisters, you'd better exist: Arguments from Diasystematic Construction Grammar	Garachana & Sansiñena Va a ser que estamos de acuerdo. The Spanish periphrastic future construction as focus marker	Gilquin Bursts of writing in process data: A new way of approaching constructions	Galletti, Beuls & Van Eecke Semantic parsing with Fluid Construction Grammar and Abstract Meaning Representation	Tahan Similar constructions, diverging usage: A parallel-corpus study of the Intransitive Motion Construction in English and Icelandic	Yang & Lu The recognition of structural patterns across sentences: Evidence from an electrophysiological study
14.15-14.45	Silvennoinen English additive negation constructions as an emergent alternation	Sommerer Of absent mothers and strong sisters: Local differences in constructional network architecture	Pérez Fernández, Gras & Brisard Discourse and dialectal variation in constructional networks: on discourse-connective que (DCQ) constructions in Spanish	Tantucci Entrenchment inhibition: Constructional change and repetitive behaviour can compete with large-scale “recompositional” creativity	Porzel, Cangalovic & Bateman Filling constructions: Applying Construction Grammar in the kitchen	Liu A Corpus-based Diachronic Distinctive Collexeme Analysis on the English V open Construction	Hagel Cross-linguistic phonological constructions in intercommunicative decoding
14.45-15.15	Glynn, Wyroślak Paradigmatic constructions: A usage-based onomasiological study in Polish prefix alternations	Norde & Trousdale A network analysis of pseudoparticiples in contemporary Dutch	Hirata-Vale Insubordinate completive que-constructions in Brazilian Portuguese: form and function	Hoffmann Blending as a basic principle of the Constructionist Approach to Syntactic Analysis	Doumen, Beuls & Van Eecke A computational model of the co-emergence of item-based constructions and syntactic categories	Morishita A statistical modelling approach to the goal bias in motion constructions in English	Olofsson & Prentice Entrenchment of semi-schematic constructions in L2 Swedish

Sessions	Workshop 4 (cont'd) (Chair: Pijpops)	Workshop 3 (cont'd) (Chair: Audring)	Insubordination and related constructions (cont'd) (Chair: Sansiñena)	Aspect and productivity (Chair: Pérez Fernández)	Formal computational construction grammar (cont'd) (Chair: TBA)	Resultative and causative constructions (Chair: Levshina)	Psycholinguistics & acquisition (cont'd) (Chair: De Knop)
15.45-16.15	Granvik & Fernández Incognito Lexical attraction or construal as an explanation to alternation? The case of change-of-state verbs hacerse (‘to make (reflexive)’) and volverse (‘to (re)turn (reflexive)’)	Neels & Hartmann Early paradigmaticisation in grammatical networks: How analogical support, functional competition and cognitive automation shape a family of degree modifiers	Machač & Fried Bringing the speech into spoken language: integrating phonetics in grammatical descriptions	Van Hulle & Enghels The Spanish inchoative construction. A stringent case of language productivity at work.	Verheyen, Van Eecke, Beuls Computational construction grammar and procedural semantics for visual dialogue	Métairy (Un)expected results in the kitchen: resultative constructions across the Germanic vs. Romance divide	Andersson Lilja & Prentice Perceived difficulties in the L2-learning of genre typical constructions
16.15-16.45	Harrigan & Arppe Plains Cree verb construction choice—a spectrum of types and degrees of alternation/interchangeability	Van de Velde, Fonteyn & Maekelberghe Towards a taxonomy of horizontal relations	Gras & Elvira Prosodic Constructions: a proposal for integrating prosody in a constructional model	Prezotto Junior Emergence and development of egressive aspectual microconstructions with “deixar” and “parar” in Portuguese	Van Trijp Getting the Facts Straight: Multiview Constructional Analyses	Busso & Romagno Caused Motion Constructions and Umgangssprache: A pilot study on the causative use of motion verbs in contemporary Italian.	Koch & Endesfelder Quick Lexically specific schemas and the early construction: Emerging networks and the Traceback method
16.45-17.15	Bouso The English Reaction Object Construction and its alternations: A case of constructional contamination in English syntax	Audring & Hilpert Concluding discussion	Gillmann Identifying (Variants of) Discourse organizing Constructions in German	Vokáčová & Lehečková Corpus-based study of logical metonymy constructions in Czech and Dutch	Cangalovic, Porzel & Bateman Streamlining Formal Construction Grammar	Nir & Melnik Division of Labor: Morphological and Syntactic Causative Constructions in Modern Hebrew	Espinosa-Ochoa & Cortés Toto What is the Role of the Inventory in Verb Overgeneralization in Child Language? A Case Study of a Daily Corpus in Spanish

Stage

17.30-18.30	Luc Steels – Fluid Construction Grammar: looking backward and looking forward

Programme ICCG11 - Friday 20th

9.00-10.00 Gabriele Diewald – Variation and Constructionalization – When is a sign a new sign?

10.00-10.30 coffee break

Sessions	Workshop 4 (cont'd) (Chair: Franco)	Workshop 1: Argument Structure Constructions in Contact (Chair: Höder)	Modelling (Chair: Budts)	Constructional change (Chair: Mortelmans)	Alternations (Chair: De Wit)	Workshop 2: Constructional approaches in Formal Grammar (Chair: TBA)	Nominal classification (Chair: Brems)
10.30-11.00	Perek Multi-level constructional representations of syntactic alternations	Boas & Höder Introduction	Kiselev Adventures of the good AI Švejk: How a book personage and Construction Grammar can help a machine to understand ethics	Tomoshige X is the new Y, X is the new black, and orange is the new black: Social change and metonymic extensions	Minami On "noun sensitivity" of the there/have alternation	Sailer & Melnik Introduction	Peng The emergence of a grammatical category: the case of Chinese numeral classifiers
11.00-11.30	Soares da Silva & Afonso Alternating linguistic factors in the choice of null and overt se constructions in Brazilian Portuguese	Wiesinger Motion event encoding in Guianese French Creole	Chen Network representation of constructional semantics	Otani The rise of modal meaning: The case of better off	Somers & Baródal Argument Structure, Word Order and (Pro) nominality: Investigating the Productivity of the Dat-Nom/Nom-Dat Alternation in German	van Trijp What does it Take to Formalize a Construction Grammar that is Forever Emergent?	Lu Multiple source constructions in the emergence of [V ge X] in Mandarin Chinese
11.30-12.00	Klavan Comprehending and producing morphosyntactic alternations	Van Driessche Substrate influence in the competition between NPs and PPs in argument structure constructions	Mun & Shin How does context window size address polysemy of adverbial postposition -(u)lo in Korean?	Yaguchi Networking of Future-Oriented Semi-Modals in Grammaticalization	Taremaa Constructional alternation: Present progressive vs. simple present in Estonian	Lichte & Kallmeyer The (putative) limits of inheritance in constructionist grammar theories	Lam Nominal grounding in a classifier language: a case study of Nung, a Tai-Kadai language
12.00-12.30	Walker & van Lier Alternating verbs in Kamang (Alor-Pantar)	Hundt & Van Driessche Prepositions in English Argument Structure Constructions: A language-contact approach to constructional variation and change	Pannitto & Herbelot Does meaning influence syntax acquisition? Evaluating neural language models' grammar in distributional space	Liu & Cuyckens The emergence and development of Mandarin "bi N hai N" construction: A usage-based Construction Grammar account	Nini, Cameron & Murphy Experimental evidence on the individuality of lexicogrammar	van Eynde A formal treatment of an informal possessive construction	Cane & Yue Constructional change along the evolving gender schema - split gender paradigm nouns

13.45-14.15	Zehentner Expanding networks: Prepositional argument structure constructions in the history of English	Colleman A French connection? The presence of French loan verbs among the earliest dative-alternating 'transfer' verbs in Early Modern Dutch	Budts A neural-network approach to analogy in constructional alternations	Kuzai Constructional interaction in pragmatic change: The emergence of Hebrew see-farewell formulae	Abeillé, Hemforth, Winckel & Gibson The subject-island constraint in French: the role of discourse information	Hoffmann Linguistic Creativity: Possibilities and limitations of formal Construction Grammar approaches	Patten & Perek Frames as constructional meanings in construction building
14.15-14.45	Cai & De Smet The paradox of stable variability. PP-complements with English emotion adjectives	Dux & Boas Causative, Resultative, and related ASCs with 'machen' in Texas German	Desagulier Tracing the shifting collocates of complex prepositions with diachronic word embeddings: <in/at the middle/midst/center/heart of NP>	Becker It's all about the sentential construction: Lexicalization of complete sentences into full-fledged words – Evidence from Hebrew	Bilbñe & de la Fuente Factivity and that-drop in English: an experimental and construction-based perspective	Müller Complex predicates in TAG, LFG and HPSG: Different degrees of lexicalization and how formalization helps us to find the correct analysis	Ohara Crowdsourcing frame disambiguation in Japanese FrameNet: what it says about constructions and frames
14.45-15.15	Piersoul & Van de Velde Birth and development of an alternation: the case of the Dutch reflexive construction	Boas & Höder Concluding discussion	Feltgen Way too predictable: Exploiting the S-curve of frequency rise to make quantitative inference on diachronic change	Lauwers & Vajnovszki The decline of the fronted adjective construction in French	Brems & Van linden Wonder nouns and the emergence of a mirative constructional network	Findlay Constructions in LFG	Janda, Endresen, Zhukova, Mordashova & Rakhilina How to build a construction in four years: The Russian recipe

15.15-15.45 coffee break

Sessions	Workshop 4 (cont'd) (Chair: Pijpops)	Construction grammar and sociocultural context (Chair: Östman)	Contrastive linguistics (Chair: TBA)	Constructional change (cont'd) (Chair: TBA)	Chinese grammar (Chair: TBA)	Workshop 2 (cont'd) (Chair: TBA)	Frame semantics & the construction (cont'd) (Chair: Boas)
15.45-16.15	Perek Concluding discussion to WS4	Price Ethnosyntax of the multicultural, mixed-language environment of north-central New Mexico	Laporte Light Verb Constructions in New Englishes: A Construction Grammar approach to nativization	Markey Evidence for analogy in language change: can priming ease the way for innovations?	Hsu A constructionist approach to near-synonyms: A corpus-based study of classificatory verbs in Chinese	Michaelis Idiom ≠ Phrase	Alm & Fischer The problem of prosodic variability in the definition of constructions: The list construction
16.15-16.45		Price Humor and historical present in narrative meta-constructions	De Knop German constructions with pleonastic adverbials	Bloom Life at the intersection: Two case studies of lateral feature transfer from multiple source constructions	Yang Decoding the Two-Plus-Two Constructions: A Corpus Approach to Chinese Four-Character Idioms	Kim & Michaelis A family of English cleft constructions: A construction-based perspective	Lyngfelt, Torrent & Ziem Full-text analysis of constructions: a shared annotation task
16.45-17.15		Matsumoto Socioculturally-motivated alternations: Conventionality and variability in Japanese honorific constructions	González García Taming iconicity in the Spanish and Italian translations of Shakespeare's Sonnets: Some observations from a (Contrastive) (Cognitive) Construction Grammar perspective	Coussé Constructional complexification. Descriptive potential and explanatory value		Sailer & Melnik Concluding discussion	Nöhren, Willich, Michel & Ziem Surveying the lexicon-grammar continuum: double particle verbs in German

Stage

17.30-18.30 Evelina Fedorenko – The language system in the human mind and brain

18.30-19.00 Closing ceremony
